RE: Permission to Conduct an Intrusive Moisture Inspection of the Stucco on Your Home

An intrusive stucco moisture inspection of your home has been requested by the prospective buyer, of your property.

In order to perform this inspection, we need your permission. It is not necessary for you to be home at the time of this inspection however we MAY need access inside your home, however all of our inspectors do have Supra if needed.

We use standard industry practices for performing moisture testing, which includes the use of small probes to check the moisture content of the wood framing behind the stucco. Small (approx. 5/16" holes) will be made at various locations on the home exterior to conduct the test. These holes will be sealed with an appropriate sealant after the test is done. Be advised there will not be an exact color match of the sealant and exterior color of your home.

I give my permission to test my home located at:
